

Dear Fellow Bowlers,
No doubt you are feeling the pressure of all the negative news going around.
I went for a walk for the first time yesterday and I saw a tree with no leaves.
It reminded me of where we are, in our current life stage. Winter.
Most trees lose their leaves in Winter.
In the space of a month or two, the trees start to develop new leaves. they turn green and the cycle of life begins again.
So too will our sport.
I and the committee have an enormous respect for how our members have been patient over this winter of discontent.
This will be rewarded.
Of this, I have no doubt.
Yes, we may not revert to what we are accustomed to .
Yes, our socialising will be restricted.
Yes, we might have to only play singles or pairs.
Yes, we will practice social distancing, sanitization and all the other protocols.
But, Yes, Edenvale Bowls club will survive.
We will grow new leaves,
We will be stronger than before.
Of this, with your support, I have no doubt.
